THAT BRIDGE QUESTION

W. H. Hazlett Explains Why He Favors the

Mulberry Street Site.

THE SELFISH INTERESTS BALANCE

There Are, He Says, as Many Interested

Property Owners on One

Street as on the Other, Hence the Subject Should Be Considered from the Standpoint of the Greatest

Good to the Greatest Number.

Much interest still attaches to the bridge question. The TRIBUNE's series of interviews have been read with avidity and have elicited varied comment. One of the most concise presentations of the claims of Mulberry street was supplied yesterday by W. H. Hazlett. He said:

"I would find the advantages of a new bridge at Mulberry street, as contrasted with the proposed Linden street site, in this way: It would mean a saving of $50,000; there would be one-third less distance to span and lighter damages to pay for in right of way. It would reach Main avenue by a uniform grade of 2 1/2 per cent; and open up enough unimproved property on the West Side, for use as building lots, within a few years to repay the cost of the bridge in the increased tax reve-nuces. It would give the people of the North End easy and safe access to the Central City. It would give to Hyde Park a road over which a heavy load of merchandise could be hauled with ease during the entire year. It would mean no heavy grades and no muddy streets.

It would be a boon to hack drivers and horses bound for Hyde Park cemetery.

It would give pleasure seekers a direct and convenient route to Nay Aug park, tention.)

A serious accident occurred yesterday morning in Briggs' mines, John Lewis, who resides at 1805 Pine

COMPANY AND COUNCIL AT WAR.

Injunction Served Restraining Carbondale Traction Company Extending Line at Archbald.

Sheriff Fahay yesterday served an injunction on the workmen of the Carbondale Traction company at Archbald restraining them from continuing the work in Archbald until May 15, when the injunction is returnable.

The action is a result of a recent meeting of the Archbald borough council, when three voted to apply for the injunction and three voted against it.

Burgess P. J. Burke broke the deadlock and applied for the injunction with Connell W. J. Swift, Thomas Padden and Edward Lane.

The petition alleges that the franchise for extending the line expired April 29.

An official of the Carbondale Traction company stated yesterday that they had been unable to continue the work through Archbald until now, and that the company is entitled to an extension of time. The official stated further that there would be no trouble in having the injunction set aside.

Attorney John R. Jones represents the petitioners, who, with Owen Clark and D. W. Vaughan as additional securities, filed an indemnifying bond in the sum of $500.

All member of Company B, Thirtieth regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, are requested to report at the Scranton City Guard Armory on Sunday at 1 o'clock p. m., to attend the funeral of our comrade, Michael Seisner. By order of CAPTAIN WILLIAM KELLOW.

THOSE ANCIENT EGGS

They Bring an Action in Court Against A.
E. Newhart.

PAIR OF WOMEN AND A BED SPREAD

Amusing Cases Heard at Court Yesterday—An Episode of the Bad Boy and a Gun—Bert Hartman Found Guilty of an Aggravated Assault—The Gun was Loaded But He Did Not Know It Would Shoot.

A. E. Newhart, of Hyde Park, was today tried before Judge Albright on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses from S. E. Ackerly, a merchant of Olyphant. He was defended by George L. Taylor, and the District Attorney appeared for the prosecution.

The bad feeling all arises out of some bad eggs that it is said Mr. Newhart sold to Mr. Ackerly. The latter is a store keeper at Olyphant, and one day Newhart in the guise of a countryman palmed off four crates of ancient eggs upon Ackerly at a price of 18 cents per dozen. Newhart said that the eggs were strictly fresh and Ackerly gave up $25.02 in order to get possession of them.

Upon the departure of Newhart, Mr.
Ackerly's clerk examined the eggs and found that they bore traces of having been the remnants of the vintage of 1853. In every sense of the word they were eggs of experience and had seen the world.

The defendant held that he purchased the eggs from a person who guaranteed them and not knowing their real state sold them at the market price which he got and without any intention to deceive.

The jury found Newhart guilty of false pretenses in selling the execrable eggs.

TWO WOMEN AND A SPREAD.

The next case called was that of Julia Goshall, who charged Henry and Sarah Newman with beating her. The Newmans were represented by H. L.
Taylor, esq., and Mr. Kelley represented the commonwealth.

The prosecutrix claims that one day she went to the premises of the defendants in South Scranton, and seeing a bed spread of hers on a clothesline, she went to take it, and while doing so was assaulted by Mrs. Newman, who in the undertaking was assisted by her husband.

The defendant claims that the prosecutrix is a quack, and that one day she went to steal a bedspread from Mrs.
Newman's house, and while doing so was assaulted by Mrs. Newman, who in the
band.

Judge McClure presided at the trial of the case against young Bert Hartman charged with feloniously wounding little Martha Edwards, of Hyde Park. Attorneys Ward and Horan represented the prosecution and C.
Conroy, esq., the defense.

Both prosecutrix and defendant are about 14 years of age. They were playing back of Hyde Park last Christmas day and were throwing sticks at each other. Young Hartman had a shot gun and told the little girl he would shoot her if she would stop. She did not stop, and he carried out his threat. He raised the gun and fired.
The shot lodged in her face, and today bandages are yet necessary. The defense is that the shooting was accidental. Not that he didn't know it was loaded, but he didn't think it would shoot, and he didn't pull the trigger.

The jury found young Hartman guilty of aggravated assault and battery and acquitted him of the felony.

NOTES OF SOUTH SIDE

The Croaker Using His Energy in Twentieth Ward Against Proposed Sewer.

CHIEF FERBER IS MYSTIFIED

He is Unable to Explain the Manner in Which the Alarm Was Sent in from Box 48 Last Night—Five Surgeons Operate on Mrs. B. F. Moore.
Another Case of Foot Crushed.
Notes and Shorter Paragraphs.

The Twentieth ward sewer business seems at least one good purpose, it gives the citizens a reasonable excuse to assemble in groups on the street corners these rainy days, and, while they discuss every detail of the subject, assist the telegraph poles in maintaining a perpendicular position. It cannot be said that the majority of the people is educated to a proper understanding of this question. Not that it is not a topic to which all of them are familiar; but the practical, concrete grasp of it does not seem to invade their minds with a proper realization.

Two thirds of the property holders have little else than undefined, abstract conception. In this condition of mind the demagogue finds a rich field to work upon. He can circulate among those who regard the sewer as an expensive bug-bear, and tell them that the construction of sewers will improve them for the rest of their natural lives. The human mind is more ready to accept a pessimistic view of any case, and to undo the adverse sentiment caused requires an energy persistent and aggressive. No matter what the opponents may tell of the matravagant outlay required to build a sewer, whether backed up by plausible arguments or not, the average citizen, who is pre-occupied to be able to comprehend the question, should acquaint himself with the facts furnished by the city engineer, who is capable of supplying all necessary information.

Police Alarm from Box 48.

The gong sounded No. 48 at 9 o'clock last night and when the fire companies responded they were at a loss to locate the fire. Station 46 is at the corner of Stone avenue and Hemlock street, but the alarm was not when the box was visited that it had been touched or tampered with. It was a false alarm and how it was sent in is a piece of information that Chief Ferber is at a loss to account for, and one that he would give a good deal to learn something about. Late last night when the box was visited by one chief that any other box had sent in an alarm, which might be recorded wrong as was the case not long ago on the South Side, when box 47 was touched. It all goes to show that there is a break somewhere in the fire alarm telegraph that cannot be repaired, otherwise it is very probable that the system shall get capersome times when a big fire breaks out in a thickly settled district and result disastrously. It may be depended that Chief Ferber will not let the matter pass; his strict attention to duty and carefulness in preserving the fire apparatus in the best style will not permit him to rest till there is a return to working order that will preclude any possible accidents.

Another Man Gets His Foot Crushed.

Frank Gavin, of the Twentieth ward, a brakeman on one of the small locomotives at the South works, had his foot squeezed between the bumpers of two cars while at work yesterday morning. He was riding between the cars and his legs were dangling carelessly when the accident happened to him. He was taken home and a physician sent for, who examined the injury and found it not very serious. He will be idle for over a month, however.

Five Doctors Perform an Operation.

Mrs. B. F. Moore, of 955 Slocum street, who has been seriously ill for some time, underwent an operation Thursday in which five doctors were engaged. Dr. A. J. Kell is the family physician and he has been treating her, but recognizing the seriousness of the case called upon Drs. Burnett, Wehlan, Gunnater and Gates. A consultation was held and it was decided to perform an operation. In medical science the technical name of the case is laparotomy. The result proved satisfactory and the physician incline to think that the woman's health will now recuperate.

Missionary Meeting.

A Missionary meeting will be held at the South Side Young Woman's Christian association tomorrow afternoon at 2:45 o'clock. A number of the young ladies will take part, and an address will be given by Miss McCall, of New York. The special music will be in charge of Mrs. S. E. Stewart. All young ladies are invited. The musical given Monday evening by the reception committee will be free to all young women, and will be a very pleasant occasion.

Alder street, will be held at 2 o'clock
